

Name: It is called a Koala.

Type: It is a marsupial

Weight: 9KG or 20 Pounds. Height: 85cm

Babies: Their babies are called Joeys.
They live in the pouch for about 7 months

Food: They eat eucalyptus leaves.

Favourite activities: They spend their days up in the trees napping and eating.

Living habits: They are mostly solitary and nocturnal animals.

Name: It is called a Dingo.

Type: It is a wild dog. It can also be found in South East Asia.

Weight: 15KG or 35Pounds. Height: Up to 1M.

Appearance: They are Reddish or Golden in color. It has a large head, pointy ears, narrow chest and shoulders and a big bushy tail.

Food: They eat small animals like rabbits and lizards.

Living habits: They live in family packs but sometimes on their own.

Name: It is called a Tasmanian devil.

Type: It is a marsupial.

Weight: 11KG Height: 3 quarters of a meter.

Name origin: They are called Tasmanian devil because they also live in Tasmania.

Appearance: They have sharp(tranchant) teeth.

Living habits: They are nocturnal animals.They sleep during the day and eat at night.

Food: They eat carcasses of dead animals. (+ hair and bones)

Other information: They owl and show their teeth. They also spin around in circle.

Name: It is called a Wombat.

Type: It is a marsupial

Weight: 15KG /40KG Height: 1meter

Appearance: They have little legs and a very short tail. They have pouches where they raise their babies but it faces backwards. This way dirt (terre) doesn't get into the pouch.

Food: They are nocturnal herbivores. (grass/ roots/ bark)

Living habits: They spend their days up in the trees napping and eating.

Predators: Dingos and Tasmanian Devils.